It Was a Conspiracy.

A Score of People Connected With the Cronin Murder.

THREE INDICTMENTS FOUND.

Detective Daniel Coughlin, P. O. Sullivan and Frank Black, alias Woodruff, held to answer for the crime by a Special Grand Jury.

Chicago, May 29.—The grand jury yesterday evening, after a session of nearly seven hours, indicted Detective Daniel Coughlin, P. O. Sullivan, the Lake View ice dealer, and Frank Black, alias Woodruff, for the wilful murder of Dr. P. H. Cronin. Black is the man arrested for stealing the white horse rig in which the physician was driven to his death, and who told a woolly story regarding Dr. Cronin having been taken to attend the woman whose body, as he claimed, was afterward hidden in the trunk.

Over a score of witnesses, including both personal and political friends of the murdered man were examined, but no evidence was introduced to prove a conspiracy, and the private papers about which so much has been said were kept from the body. As a result of the investigation it was decided by a unanimous vote to include the three persons in one indictment of three counts, one charging them with killing Dr. Cronin with a blunt instrument, the second alleging the use of a sharp instrument, and the third with "instruments and means unknown."

Proving a Conspiracy.

The indictments were returned to Judge Williamson and the jury released for the night. States Attorney Longenecker said subsequently that the question of a conspiracy was not investigated in any form and that the matter would not be taken up again by the present body. It is said on absolute authority that the police are only just beginning to get an insight into the magnitude of the conspiracy. All along they have been working on the theory that it was confined to a few. Within the last twenty-four hours, however, they have come into possession of information that places it beyond the shadow of a doubt that at least a score of individuals were connected, directly or indirectly with the diabolical affair.

Alexander Sullivan Under Surveillance.

Among these, it is said, are eight of the most prominent Irish Nationalists in the city. These are being shadowed day and night, not so much with the view of any immediate arrest, but, as the police put it, "the better to observe the interests of justice." Among the best and most widely known of the eight is Alexander Sullivan, the ex-president of the Irish Land League of America. He is probably the best watched man in Chicago to-day. Shadows infest the lobby of the Chicago opera house building, in which his offices are located; they flit around the upper corridor; they dog his footsteps when he goes across to the court house, and they have his house on Oak street under surveillance. Only when closeted in his office or when in the parlor of his home is he free from their gaze.

Chief of Police Hubbard has practically admitted that he was responsible for this espionage, but he declined to say upon what grounds it was based, although he hinted that it was done to satisfy Cronin's friends. Almost in the same breath he said that of all the stream of direct evidence that had been poured upon him there was not a single fact that pointed in the slightest degree to Alexander Sullivan's culpability. The friends of the latter, and their name is legion, take the ground that he is being outrageously persecuted. He is, they say, being made a mark of by men who have been opposed to him for years in secret societies, and who are now only too willing to take advantage of the present excitement to identify him with the crime in the public mind.

Damaging Evidence Against Sullivan.

John Carlson and his wife, who own the cottage in which Dr. Cronin was murdered, gave some startling testimony to the grand jury. They testified that Frank Williams, the mysterious stranger who rented the cottage, after paying the first month's rent in advance and taking a receipt for it, went directly to the house of Sullivan and entered it by the rear door. When the second month's rent became due Williams again made his appearance at the Carlson house, paid the rent, and as before went to Sullivan's house, where he was met by Sullivan at the rear door. The two men stood in plain view of the Carlsons.
Williams put his hand in his pocket, produced a piece of paper—supposed to be the receipt for the rent—which he handed to Sullivan. The man looked at it and produced a roll of bills, counted out a certain amount and handed it to Williams. The entire transaction was observed by both Mr. and Mrs.
Carlson, positively sworn to and maintained through a rigid cross-examination.

An Important Discovery.

As Willard J. Smith was leaving the court room after the grand jury session he was recognized by Frank Scanlan, the last friend who saw Dr. Cronin alive, as the unknown man who drove away with the murdered man in the buggy hauled by the white horse on the fatal Saturday night. Mr. Scanlan took a long look at Smith and declared he could not be mistaken. This information was given to Capt. Schaack. A consultation was held but it was decided not to arrest Smith at this time. Smith is the man who claimed last Sunday that he was the Smith referred to by Detective Coughlin as his friend from Michigan.

The coroner's jury visited the cottage, the manhole and the locality in which the trunk was found, and upon returning to the city, adjourned for the day.

A widow named Hamburger has turned over to the police a suit of flannel underclothing and a vest, which were found by her two boys, aged 9 and 11 years in a clump of bushes on the Evaston road not far from the spot where the trunk was discovered. The officers are mysterious regarding the find, and refuse to say whether the articles have been identified as having been worn by the murdered man.

A Detective's Startling Story.

Detective Robert Bruce, who has been conducting a private agency in this city, walked in Lieut. Herver Elliott's office yesterday and said that several months ago Alderman McCormick offered him $1,100 to kill Dr. Cronin. Bruce, who has just returned from a three months' stay in Texas, says that McCormick paid him $100 in advance and agreed to pay the remaining $1,000 when the job was done. Bruce declares that McCormick told him to feign sickness in his office and then send for Dr. Cronin to kill him. Bruce says he took the $100, spent it for liquor and never made a move toward carrying out the contract. Bruce bears a rather unsavory reputation and the police do not place all the reliance in the world in his story. He has been in numerous scrapes in this city.

The Clan-na-Gael Held Responsible.

The Herald, in an elaborate article, reiterates its former statement that Dr.
Cronin was "removed" by the Clan-na-Gael after trial and conviction on the charge of being a British spy. It declares circumstantially that an officer of the order known as a delegate, called upon the senior guardian of a north side camp to appoint a trial committee. No names nor specifications were given. At the next meeting of the camp it was announced under the rules provided for such occasions that a trial committee was required. Each man present wrote a name on a piece of paper. When all the slips had been deposited in a ballot box it was delivered to a trusted member, who counted them and selected the seven that received the highest number.
Each was quietly notified of the fact, while the unsuccessful ones simply received blank slips.

The committee met within a week and for the first time became aware of each others identity and also that of the man whom they were to try and the charges preferred. Hence, of all the members of the order only the committee, the man preferring the charges and the witnesses examined, were cognizant of the personality of the body or its proceedings. Charges were preferred against Cronin of being a British spy; he was found guilty by a unanimous vote and sentenced to be "removed." In some way knowledge of these proceedings came to Cronin, and hence his frequent statements just before he met his death that a violent end was in store for him.
The article also says that the only object of the presence in Chicago of Luke Dillon, of Philadelphia, who is one of the trimviate, now ruling the order, is to learn the number of the camp by which the committee was appointed.

Resolutions of the Clan-na-Gael.

CHICAGO, May 29.—Two hundred delegates representing eleven camps of the Clan-na-Gael met at No. 143 Randolph street to take action regarding the murder of Dr. Cronin. Luke Dillon, of Philadelphia, presided at the meeting and Edward M. Lahiff was secretary.
The following preamble and resolution were adopted:

"WHEREAS, We have heard, with deep regret, of the terrible crime that has fallen on our fair city in the death of Dr. P. H. Cronin; therefore, be it "RESOLVED, That we, the representatives of the Clan-na-Gael, place on record our utter detestation of the crime of assassination, and we enter our solomon protest against the evident attempt of the murderers of our brother to place the crime of his death on our order. It is not the spirit nor the object of the Clan-na-Gael, and we repudiate, and hereby pledge our best efforts to the authorities to aid in hunting down the criminals and to vindicate law and order."

Murphy? Receives a White Cap Warning.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 29.—Yesterday Mr. T. Edward Murphy, the temperance leader, received a letter signed "White Caps." It was the second one of the kind received, the first coming on Monday. The letters were printed in a large hand, with pen and ink, and one or two attempts at misspelling had been made. The letter received yesterday was a warning to Mr. Murphy, in which he was assured that after the 18th of June his punishment would be meted out to him. Mr. Murphy thinks the letters originated with persons who know him, and think they are perpetrating a joke.

The President to Go to Brooklyn—Other News From Washington.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Secretary Blaine spoiled a cabinet meeting yesterday. On his invitation many prominent persons went down to Mount Vernon on the United States steamship Dispatch.

SIR JULIAN PAUNCEFOOT, Secretary

Noble were in the party, there were not enough members of the cabinet left to transact business.

The Dispatch left her wharf at 12:30 o'clock, having on board representatives of all the foreign legations, nearly all the state department officials and a number of other prominent persons. The day was cool but not too cool for comfort.

The President Will Go to Brooklyn.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The president has accepted an invitation to attend the memorial services at Brooklyn. During his stay in Brooklyn will remain at the residence of Gen. Joseph N. Knapp.
The president will return from Brooklyn Thursday night, leaving immediately after the conclusion of the ceremonies. The arrangement for the trip is in charge of Secretary Tracy. The special car in which the party will make the journey will be attached to the congressional limited train, which leaves here at 4 o'clock. On his return from Mount Vernon Secretary Windom will go over to New York and join the president there on Thursday. The president has positively declined to make any address during the ceremonies.

Visitors at the White House.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Yesterday was a dull day at the White House. There were very few visitors. By special invitation the president saw the delegates to the Swedenborgian conference, now in session in this city. The postponement of the cabinet meeting on account of the absence of three members on the diplomatic excursion, gave him a chance to attend to his desk work without interruption, and he transacted a great deal of business before luncheon time.

Sails for Alaska.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The United States steamer Thetis sailed from Tacoma, Wash., for Sitka, Alaska, yesterday. She will cruise in Alaskan waters until further orders, with a view to prevent the illegal killing of fur-bearing animals.

BOLD ABDUCTORS.

A Richly Dressed Woman Overpowered by Two Men and Carried Away.

WICHITA, Kan., May 29.—Last evening an unknown woman while walking in the most aristocratic part of the city was bound and gagged by two men, who carried her away in a covered carriage.
Her cries attracted the attention of two bankers who were on the street, and the only witnesses to the occurrence. Before they could reach her the men were out of sight around the corner.

The woman was about 35 years of age and richly dressed. She had arrived in the city, as an investigation showed, Sunday. She refused to register at the hotel at which she stopped, but said that her name was Mrs. Rhinehart, from Cincinnati. The police were immediately notified and are making a strenuous effort to solve the mystery.

So far they have been unsuccessful, having absolutely no clew to any of the persons concerned in the abduction or the motive which prompted it. It was stated last night that Rhinehart is not the woman's name, but that she comes of a prominent Illinois family, and that the two men had been hired to put her out of the way.

THE HAYTIAN COMMISSIONERS.

Several Theories Why the Two Names Were Withdrawn.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The president has withdrawn the appointments of Gen.
Lew Wallace and Beverly Tucker as Haytian commissioners. The notice of withdrawal was made known only a few hours after the appointments were made, and the generally accepted theory of why the withdrawals were made is that after the appointment was made the president's attention was called to Tucker's record in the Lincoln assassination.
Mr. Tucker was charged before the court martial, which assembled in this city May 5, 1865, with being one of the conspirators. One of the members of that court martial was Maj. Gen. Lew Wallace, who was Monday appointed an associate of Mr. Tucker on the Haytian commission. No explanation of the withdrawal is given at the White House, except that the announcement of the appointment was "premature." The im-pointment of Mr. Tucker is said to have been made at the request of Stephen R.

Elkins and ex-Senator Henry G. Davis, made through Mr. Blaine. Mr. Tucker has been associated with these three gentlemen in the management of the West Virginia Central railroad for some time.

Another theory in circulation is to the effect that information had been received late Monday evening, concerning the condition of affairs in Hayti, which made it seem altogether likely that no commission would be needed, or could in fact be with propriety appointed.
This information, it was said, conveyed the idea that Legitimate's government was about to be overthrown, and as the Hippolyte government had no representative here and was not recognized by the United States, no representatives of this country could be accredited to it.

Still another theory which had its supporters, was founded on a story that when Walker Blaine was informed that the appointments had been announced, he expressed great surprise and hurried away to inform his father. On this slender thread was hung the theory that Mr. Blaine had not intended to have the appointments made public, and that it was at his request that the announcement of them was withdrawn.

Gen. Lew Wallace called on the president yesterday in company with Mr.
Blaine. He refuses to discuss the Haytian matter. It is known that Gen.
Wallace did not desire the appointment as commissioner and would be very glad to be relieved of its responsibilities.

It is stated that the appointment of the commission will not be renewed for some time. The explanation of this delay given at the White House is that Gen. Wallace is a member of the board of visitors to West Point and has made preparations to go there in the near future. It is not officially stated, but it is generally understood, that Mr. Tucker will not be a member of the commission.

Gen. H. V. Boynton, of The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, called at the White House shortly after the appointment was announced to protest against Mr. Tucker's selection. It is stated that his protest and the protests of others determined the president to withdraw Mr. Tucker's name, and with it that of Gen. Wallace. It is stated at the White House that Mr. Tucker had his political disabilities removed by congress a great many years ago, and that since that time he has held office twice under Grant's administration and once under the administration of Hayes. Two of these appointments were of a diplomatic character.

Fire in a Steamer.

LONDON, May 29.—Fire was discov-yesterday, upon her arrival at Liverpool.

The fire was a small one, and caused smoldering. The fire might have been serious had the vessel been at sea and the danger not discovered promptly.

Difference Existing in the Conference.

LONDON, May 29.—The News' Berlin has arisen on an important point in the claims, and the prospect for an early close of the conference is considered less favorable.

Result of the Riot.

BELGRADE, May 29.—In the riot which occurred Monday night a gendarme was rioters.

The proprietor of a large woolen mill at Bristol, Pa., declared last fall that he would sell his mill at 25 per cent. of what it cost if Cleveland was elected. This mill-owner is a Republican of course, and his statement was no doubt made for political effect. Harrison was elected, but that didn't bring prosperity to this manufacturer at Bristol. A few days ago his property was sold for 10 per cent. of its cost. He has written to the New York Evening Post to say that present protection fails to protect the industry in which he is engaged, and ascribes his trouble to the high tariff on imported wool.

ANSWERING THE AUDITOR.

The Owensboro Inquirer's Response to General Hewitt's Big Libel Suit.

The Owensboro Inquirer's answer to the petition of State Auditor Fayette Hewitt in the action of the latter against the former on account of alleged libelous publications in connection with the Tate defalcation, was filed in the court at Louisville this week. It was prepared by Messrs. Weir, Weir & Waller, and Sweeney, Ellis & Sweeney, of Owensboro, and Judge Muir, of Louisville.

The Courier-Journal says: "It makes a general denial of all the allegations. In addition, without waiving their special plea as to jurisdiction, Messrs. Ford and Givens charge that the plaintiff garbled the Inquirer article in his petition. At the time Ford wrote the article, which is given in its entirety, they charged and believed the statements therein contained were true and they now aver and reiterate that they were true, in their answer. They deny that the article was wicked or that they had any enmity against the defendant in uttering them, but declare that they published the statements in good faith.

"In addition to denying that the State Auditor did not know of Tate's defalcation until March 17, 1883, as Hewitt states, they deny that he did not make false entries to conceal Tate's shortcomings. A lot of figures from Tate's account are furnished. They cover the settlements of January 5, 1880; January 2, 1882; January 7, 1884, and January 4, 1886. The deficit on the first named date was said to have been $29,339.23; on the next $46,759.64; on next $118,238.14; and on the next, $99,247.50.

"They charged that it was the duty of the Auditor and Secretary of State to have a settlement with Tate at the end of his succeeding term, January, 1883, but that they failed to make such settlement in the month of January, 1883, or at any time, though Tate was in his office at the Capitol of the State, and continued to be in Frankfort and about his office until some time in March, when he fled the Commonwealth and has since remained a fugitive from justice. And during the periods from January to his flight in March, the Auditor, they say, failed to investigate the state of his bank accounts, or to ascertain the money on hand in the Treasury.

"The defendants say that, in the various settlements, the entries made it appear that Tate had more to his credit than in fact he actually had. They insist that if the plaintiff had exercised the diligence the duties of his office legally exacted of him, the misappropriation would have been discovered and money thus saved the State, as the bank could have been compelled to account to the State. Tate was a defaulter, but they have no means of knowing whether for himself or the benefit of other people. The article was written and published for the benefit of the public, who were interested in the proper administration of the duties of the Auditor's office, and, apart from this, with no intent to injure the good name of the plaintiff.

"In their special plea as to jurisdiction, the defendants, Messrs. Ford & Givens, deny that they are either lessees or proprietors of the newspaper printing the alleged libel and they also deny that the alleged injury to the plaintiff was done in Jefferson County, but that the articles were sent from Daviess County where they were printed. They also deny that the plaintiff was injured in the sum of $50,000 or any other sum, and petition in the usual way to be dismissed."

Rooney Now Has $15,000 in Pocket.

It is a singular thing that two residents of Providence, R. I., are richer to-day than they were a week ago. The ticket 2,887, which drew the first capital prize of $300,000 in the drawing of March 12, brought one-twentieth part of the prize to Mr. John Rooney, he having paid $1 for that share in its chances.—Providence (R. I.) Telegram, March 30.

IN the publication last week of the list of committees chosen to sell tickets for the public library benefit the date of the entertainment was erroneously stated as the 15th. It will take place June 7th instead of the 15th. Committees in charge of the sale of tickets, as far as heard from, are doing well. We apprehend that no citizen of the county will feel disposed to refuse to buy one or more of these tickets. Let everybody contribute to this enterprise.

Some Maysville People in Luck if All Reports Are True.

JAMES Blithe, an old bachelor, died at San Francisco not long since, leaving property estimated as worth about $5,000,000, much of it consisting of valuable real estate. The deceased was a native of this section of the country, but went West while a youth, and amassed his fortune at mining.

SUCH is the information obtained from Wm. Blithe, an employee of the Maysville Cotton Mills. Mr. Blithe is a nephew of the deceased, and if reports about the fortune are true, he will come into possession of a handsome sum of money. Mr. Blithe's wife is also one of the heirs, the two being first cousins. They have employed Hon. W. H. Wadsworth to look after their interests.

THERE are about forty heirs. Some of them live in Cincinnati, and have employed lawyers of that city to look into the matter.

Progress of The Old Kentucky Home.

"The sun shines bright on the old Kentucky home, This summer and life is all gay;
The corn-top's ripe and the meadows are in bloom, While the birds make music all the day.

The young folks roll on the little cottage floor, All merry; all happy and bright,
The good time is here and a knocking at the door, And our old Kentucky home's all right.

"Weep no more, my lady, Weep no more to-night;
We will sing one song for the old Kentucky home, For the old Kentucky home's all right.

"We will hunt no more for the possum and the coon, The railroads have scared them away;
We will sing no more by the glimmer of the moon, But will list to the saw mill's lay.

Deep in the heart of our old Kentucky's soil There's a thrill of the sweetest delight;
We have struck iron ore and coal and gas and oil,
And the old Kentucky home's all right.

Newspaper Palaces.

ONE by one the great New York dailies are getting unto themselves magnificent homes. The Tribune led the way by the erection of its tall and imposing structure, which for years was the most costly newspaper building in America. It has now been surpassed by the new home of the Times, but Mr. Pulitzer has registered a vow that this shall not long stand as the finest of New York newspaper offices. The contracts for the new World building have been awarded, and it will be completed by October, 1890. The daring proprietor of this phenomenal newspaper promises that this shall be "the most imposing structure on Manhattan Island." Perhaps when the World building is finished Mr. Bennett may become dissatisfied with the comparatively modest home of the Herald and strike for the foremost place among the building of newspaper palaces.

Session of the Presbyterian General Assembly Closed.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE MEETING.

Saratoga Selected as the Next Meeting Place — A Committee Appointed to Call President Harrison's Attention to the Slave Traffic in Africa—Other Transactions of the Assembly.

New York, May 29.—Immediately after the reading of the minutes at yesterday's session of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, Dr. Crosby took the floor and asked that his protest against the temperance resolution be stricken from the record. He declared that his only object in opposing the resolution was to prevent his congregation from being drawn into the political arena. He then presented a resolution setting forth that the action taken on the temperance question must not be construed as endorsing a political party. The resolution was vociferously applauded and unanimously adopted.

The order of the day, the report of the special committee on education was then taken up and discussed. Rev. Dr. Henry McCook, of Philadelphia, said he did not agree with the committee's condemnation of the practice of entering young men under 25 years upon collegiate studies. He was of the opinion that young men could not be introduced into the ministry at too early a day. He urged the appointment of a committee of seven to consider the question of increasing the number of ministers. Rev. D. T. S. Hamlin, of Washington, supported Dr. McCook in his efforts for the appointment of a committee. A motion finally carried for the appointment of a joint committee with instructions to report at the next assembly on the best method of introducing ministers into the church. Dr. S. J. Nicoll was appointed chairman.

Rev. Dr. Thompson, of the centennial fund committee, reported that the money raised for the support of disabled ministers would by June 1 reach $616,000. He recommended the investment of the money in first mortgages on railroads paying dividends and other property.

The Rev. Dr. W. Stryker, of Chicago, offered a resolution calling the attention of President Harrison to the slave traffic in Africa, and praying for a conference with the foreign powers for the purpose of devising some means for abating the evil. The resolution was adopted. The vote settling the question raised by the New Jersey synod in regard to the regular organization of a church, was reconsidered, and the matter referred to a committee of five.

The report of the judiciary committee was then taken up.

The case of Rev. Dr. West against the synod of Minnesota was postponed for a year, after a rather warm colloquy between Dr. West and Dr. Dickey.

A motion approving the bill setting apart for educational purposes the money obtained from the sale of Creek and Seminole lands was voted down.

The moderator announced Drs. Crosby, Hamlin, Dickey, Wade, Foster and Allison as the committee to visit President Harrison on the African slavery question.

Various reports and addresses on subordinate topics were listened to.

Rev. C. C. Hall, of Brooklyn, chairman of the committee on narratives, read a long account of some aspects of the work of the church during the year. The session closed with song and a prayer by Dr. Crosby.

At the evening session, a number of reports of committees were rushed through and adopted.

Saratoga was chosen as the next meeting place.

Col. E. F. Shepard and Rev. Dr. Thurber, of New York, were chosen delegates at large to the international Presbyterian conference at Paris in September.

After adopting various resolutions of thanks the assembly adjourned to meet at Saratoga in May, 1890.

Ohio Knights of Pythias.

TOLEDO, O., May 29.—The twentieth annual meeting of the Ohio Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias convened in this city yesterday. Grand Prelate William Beatty, of this city, delivered an address of welcome which was responded to by Grand Chancellor John G. Reeves, of Lancaster. The business of the Grand Lodge was then taken up. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon a grand parade took place, participated in by the local and visiting lodges. In the evening a complimentary promenade concert and hop was tendered the delegates and visiting knights. There are about 400 delegates with twice as many visitors. The meeting will occupy two days' time.

The committee called on Dr. Leonard in the afternoon and officially notified him of his election as assistant bishop of the diocese of Ohio. STORM ON LAKE ONTARIO.

A Number of Vessels Wrecked and Probably Some Lives Lost.

KINGSTON, Ont., May 29.—A violent southwesterly gale set in about midnight Monday night, and is still blowing but has moderated somewhat and veered to the westward. Monday afternoon the steamer Tecumseh left Collins bay with the barges Cameron, Wort and Cavalier for the Welland canal. They had discharged timber at Collins bay, and were going back to Lake Superior for more. The trip was uneventful until 3 o'clock yesterday morning, when a stiff gale began to drive them. The velocity kept getting greater. The captain of the Tecumseh came to the conclusion that to proceed would be perilous. He righted his boats and let two of them go; one he kept under line. The boats reached here yesterday afternoon.

The captain reports that when he reached the main decks he saw the steamer D. D. Calvin and tow laden with timber. They seemed to be in trouble. The barges were away from the steamer and no sailors seemed to be in charge. The barges seemed damaged and an empty yawl was on one of them. The schooner Neelon, from Toledo, put in here yesterday. She had lost some canvas and was leaking badly.

The Norway, one of the Calvin's tow, reached Garden island last night under sail. She reports her consort weathering the gale well.

Barges Wrecked.

PICTON, Ont., May 29.—A heavy gale swept over Lake Ontario last night, and it is expected much damage to shipping was done. The keeper of the point, Peter Light, reports three barges loaded with lumber ashore there and into pieces. It is feared the crews will all be lost. The life saving station at Wellington has sent assistance.

A KANSAS TORNADO.

Many Persons Killed and Mangled, and Much Property Destroyed.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 29.—A Times special from Emporia, Kan., reports that a disastrous tornado passed over Clements, Chase county, thirty-two miles west of there, about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Capt. Brown and his daughter were killed, and his wife had a leg torn off, and his son had an arm and a leg broken. It is reported that six or seven other persons were killed, but the wires are all down, and no reliable information can be obtained.

John Pantle, conductor of a stock train, who arrived in Emporia at 9 o'clock last night, says he passed through Clements just after the storm, and in plain sight of part of its destructive doings. The cloud looked square-shaped, like a house with its lower portion surrounded by a white cloud looking like steam, which seemed to rise from all around the main dark cloud. As it came through the timber it cut a clean swath apparently destroying everything in its path, and when it struck the Cottonwood river it looked as if it was cutting path through the river, piling up the water on both sides. He saw Capt. Brown's stone house totally demolished, another with the roof and one side torn off and still another lifted and carried from its foundations.

He afterwards learned that the people in the latter house took to the cellar and escaped uninjured. The storm crossed the railroad in three places, and seemed to have made a partial circle, going over nearly the same path a second time. Pantle says its path was about fifty yards wide, and that there is little doubt of much damage and more deaths having occurred farther from the road. He left word at Strong City, and from there a special will be sent out with doctors and assistance.

SOLDIERS AND ITALIANS.

Riotous Miners at Braidwood, Illinois, Being Arrested.

BRAIDWOOD, Ill., May 29.—Eight companies of the Fourth Illinois National guards have pitched their tents on the Chicago, Wilmington and Vermilion coal lands at the "J" shaft, and are now raiding the Italian quarters. Twenty-five Italians have been arrested. On their persons were found knives and revolvers. It is asserted that the Italians are rallying at Godley, Coal City, Clark City, Gardner and Bruceville for an attack upon the militia.

The plan of Col. Bennett is to attack the Italian settlements in detail before they can rally. Great activity is noted in the Italian quarters here, and crowds will attempt the rescue of the men arrested. Residents here say the Italians mean fight, and that they don't care for their lives. The whistles blow for work in shaft "J" this morning, but no miners went to work.
